Para llevar a cabo este trabajo, el gobierno de la República Oriental de Uruguay puso a disposición del director del servicio de prensa del Ministerio de Hacienda la aportación de oficina de la cuenta nueva del Ministerio de Hacienda sobre importación de libros y material impreso en los Estados Unidos, del 31 de diciembre de 1972 al 31 de mayo de 1978. II.... Education and Instruction. Most books are written for teaching purposes and are usually intended to meet only one goal - to teach a subject or to pass on a body of knowledge. Books that are a basic element of the intellectual life of a society may be written for any of several goals. Most books are written for teaching purposes and are usually intended to meet only one goal - to teach a subject or to pass on a body of knowledge. Books that are a basic element of the intellectual life of a society may be written for any of several goals. But sometimes one book can teach more than one goal. An example of this is "For Teachers" by Rudolf Flesch. This book, a basic text for teaching English, can also be used to teach about American history, about written expression in English, about American culture, and even about psychology. In short, the book is used to teach English in the context of a general education program. A unique feature of the book is its ability to teach a number of goals simultaneously. Books usually take a fixed form. The number of words in a book is usually controlled by the number of pages in the book. No matter how long or short a book may be, it normally has a fixed number of words. On the other hand, the size of a book is usually not fixed. Books may vary in size from a short pamphlet to a massive paperback. Books that contain illustrations are normally larger than books that do not. The size of the paper used is also not fixed. A book may be printed on either ordinary paper or on thicker paper with extra padding for protection. The illustrations are also not fixed. Most books include an illustration, but a book may include a number of illustrations or none 82157476af
